UNIVERSITY HISTORY

Boston College is one of the twenty-five colleges and universities in the United States conducted by the Society of Jesus. The university traditions of Boston College are the product of four centuries of educational idealism and practical experience of the Society of Jesus which, since its foundation in 1534 by Ignatius Loyola, has established and conducted institutions of higher learning in all parts of the world.

Boston College owes its inception to the foresight and energy of the scholarly John McElroy, S.J., Superior of the first Jesuit community in New England. This community, still located at old Saint Mary's in Boston, was founded in 1849. In 1857, in accordance with the Society's traditional devotion to higher education, Father McElroy secured land and erected a group of collegiate buildings on Harrison Avenue in Boston, the present site of the Boston College High School. He was assisted in the undertaking by a group of civic leaders headed by the Honorable Alexander H. Rice, then Mayor of Boston, and later Governor of the Commonwealth. The formal opening of the College was delayed by the Civil War, and for a time the buildings were used as a House of Studies of the Society of Jesus.

Boston College was formally incorporated by an act of the Massachusetts Legislature approved by Governor John A. Andrew, April 1, 1863. The charter authorized the conferring of all degrees usually conferred by universities in the Commonwealth, except medical degrees. This single restriction upon its university charter was removed by legislative amendment, April 1, 1908. Formal instruction was commenced on September 5, 1864, under the presidency of John Bapst, S.J., and the deanship of Robert Fulton, S.J. In 1913, during the presidency of Thomas I. Gasson, S.J., the site of Boston College was transferred to the present extensive and beautiful campus at University Heights, Chestnut Hill, Newton. The buildings already erected there are universally acclaimed as outstanding monuments of Collegiate Gothic in the United States.

Since the transfer to University Heights, other schools have been added, by foundation or affiliation, to the original College of Arts and Sciences. The Graduate School of Arts and Sciences and the School of Business Administration are also located at University Heights, Chestnut Hill. The College of Arts and Sciences Intown, the Law School, and the School of Social Work are conveniently located in downtown Boston. The College of Liberal Arts in Lenox is situated in the heart of the Berkshires. The School of Philosophy and Science, the School of Theology, and the Seismological Observatory are in Weston, Massachusetts.

GENERAL INFORMATION

BOSTON COLLEGE INTOWN

Boston College Intown is conducted by the Trustees and Administrators of Boston College in virtue of a charter granted to them by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, March 31, 1863. The conferring of degrees upon the students of Boston College Intown constitutes an exercise of the powers granted to the Trustees of Boston College by the Massachusetts State Legislature.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the College is twofold. Its primary object is to provide a complete and integrated cultural course of studies for men and women who wish to obtain either a Bachelor of Arts or a Bachelor of Science degree under Jesuit auspices. Its secondary purpose is to offer college training to students who are not candidates for degrees but who desire to further their cultural knowledge by following courses of collegiate grade. All candidates for admission to the College must have been graduated with satisfactory grades from an approved secondary school.

LOCATION

The College is located at 126 Newbury Street near Copley Square in the city of Boston. The offices and classrooms are situated on the sixth floor. The College is equipped with a Library and Reading Room on the fifth floor of the building. In close proximity to the Copley Square subway station and the Back Bay and Trinity Place railroad terminals, the College is easily accessible.

FACULTY

The Faculty is composed of the Jesuit Fathers and associate lay professors.

REGULAR SESSION

From September to June classes are held each day except Saturday from 6:30 to 9:20 P.M.

SUMMER SESSION

In addition to the classes held during the regular scholastic year, courses are conducted during a Summer Session at Boston College, University Heights, Chestnut Hill, Mass. The Summer School extends for a period of six weeks, during July and August.

VETERANS AT BOSTON COLLEGE

Boston College is offering every inducement to the Veteran to continue his education and complete it successfully at the earliest possible time consonant with good scholarship. Every consideration will be given to courses taken in the Army and Navy Schools and through the Armed Forces Institute. Informal educational experience gathered while in the service will be evaluated according to the recommendations set down and approved by national educational associations.

A special educational adviser has been appointed to care for the individual problems of each veteran. The veteran is advised to consult him whenever he wishes.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION

In order to admit an applicant as a candidate for a degree, the Committee on Admissions must receive official documentary evidence that the student-applicant has successfully completed four (4) years of study in an approved Secondary School and has been graduated therefrom with honorable dismissal by the school authorities. This testimony must reach the Registrar of the College by way of direct transit from the office of the Principal or Registrar of the Secondary School from which the applicant has been graduated. Personal presentation of high school records by the applicant will not be accepted as a fulfillment of this requirement. In the event that the applicant has attended more than one high school, a transcript of his record in each of the schools attended must be submitted to the Registrar of the College in the manner above described. To satisfy entrance requirements the record of the candidate must show that a minimum of fifteen (15) high school units have been acquired in acceptable subjects.

“A unit represents a year’s study in any subject in a secondary school, constituting approximately a quarter of a year’s work.

"A four-year secondary school curriculum should be regarded as representing not more than sixteen units of work.

"This statement is designed to afford a standard of measurement for the work done in secondary schools. It takes the four-year high school course as a basis, and assumes that the length of the school year is from thirty-six to forty weeks, that a period is from forty to sixty minutes in length, and that the study is pursued for four or five periods a week; but under ordinary circumstances, a satisfactory year's work in any subject cannot be accomplished in less than one hundred and twenty sixty-minute hours or their equivalent. Schools organized on any other than a four-year basis can, nevertheless, estimate their work in terms of this unit." (David A. Robertson, American Universities and Colleges, New York, 1928, p. 19.)

SECONDARY SCHOOL UNITS REQUIRED FOR THE A.B. COURSE

The following high school units are required as a condition of admission to courses leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts:

English	4
Latin	3
Mathematics	2
History	1
*Modern Language	2
Other Subjects (as listed below) ..	3
	15

SECONDARY SCHOOL UNITS REQUIRED FOR THE B.S. COURSE

English	4
Mathematics	2
History	1
*Modern Language	2
Other Subjects (as listed below) ..	6
	15

*Candidates who cannot present entrance units in any Modern Language may substitute credit in any of the subjects listed under Acceptable High School Units. Such students may begin a Modern Language at the College and continue it through the Intermediate and Advanced Courses.

Elementary, Intermediate and Advanced Modern Language courses are offered in French, German, Italian and Spanish. The elementary course may not be taken in any language in which the student has had two years of secondary school preparation. Intermediate courses presuppose at least two years of secondary school preparation in the language. It is permissible, however, for students who have had two years of high school preparation in a Modern Language to discontinue the study of that language and to begin the study of another language at Boston College Intown.

A total of twelve (12) credits must be acquired in the same Modern Language. It is not permissible after two years of collegiate study of a Modern Language to begin a new language, and to consider the credits earned in this new Modern Language as satisfying the requirements of the College.

ACCEPTABLE HIGH SCHOOL UNITS

A high school unit represents the satisfactory completion of a definite subject, e.g., English, which has been studied at least four hours a week for a full year comprising at least thirty-six weeks. A subject to which less time than this has been devoted, will be computed in proportionate fractions of a unit. Thus a course in History which has been studied only two hours a week for a full year, will be evaluated as constituting one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) a unit in History. However, no credit will be given for a course which yields less than one-half a unit. The following is a list of acceptable high school units. The numerals indicate the maximum number of units acceptable in the specified subject.

English I (Grammar and Composition)	2	Intermediate German.....	1
English II (Literature)	2	Elementary Italian	2

ENTRANCE PROCEDURE

1. Applications for admission, on the form provided by the College, should be filed not later than one week before the date of the Entrance Examinations. The application should be accompanied by the examination fee of five dollars.

2. At the same time, high school records from all high schools attended by the Registrant must be forwarded directly to the Office of the Registrar by the high school office.

3. Upon receipt of the Application, the Examination Fee, and the High School Transcript, a card of admission to the examinations will be sent to eligible candidates.

4. When final action has been taken on applications by the Committee on Admissions, successful candidates will be informed as to the details of registration.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS

All applicants for admission to Boston College Intown, in addition to satisfying the general entrance requirements, must successfully pass the entrance examinations conducted by the College. These examinations are held in June and September of each year. The June examinations also determine the award of the McGarry Scholarships.

The examinations consist of a series of objective tests designed to measure aptitude and achievement. Special preparation for these tests is not deemed advisable.

Final decision on the acceptability of candidates rests with the Committee on Admissions.

ADMISSION TO ADVANCED STANDING

Students who have pursued studies in duly accredited colleges may receive credit for their scholastic work, provided it has been done in acceptable subjects and is of high standard.

Admission to advanced standing will be conditioned by the following considerations:

1. A minimum of sixty (60) semester hours credit must be earned at Boston College Intown to qualify the student for a Boston College degree. This is a minimum requirement; it is not a guarantee that the maximum amount of credit in transfer will be accepted in any particular case.

2. To be acceptable, credit must represent work which is applicable to a current curriculum at Boston College Intown, and must be equivalent in content and quality to the courses for which it is offered as a substitute.

3. Only courses in which the applicant has received a grade of at least C will be considered.

4. The maximum credit in transfer which can be allowed for one full year of work will be thirty (30) semester hours.

5. Exact evaluation of credit in transfer will not be given until the student has earned twenty (20) semester hours of credit at Boston College Intown.

An applicant for advanced standing must file the following:

1. An official transcript, including certificate of honorable dismissal, which must be forwarded to the Registrar of Boston College Intown by way of direct transit from the office of the Dean or Registrar of the College previously attended. Personal presentation of such records by the applicant will not be accepted as official.

2. An official and complete statement of entrance credits and conditions.

3. A marked copy of the catalogue of the College previously attended, indicating the courses for which credit is desired.

DEGREES

BACHELOR OF ARTS

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN ECONOMICS

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN EDUCATION

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN EXPRESSIVE ARTS

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN HISTORY

BACHELOR OF SCIENCE IN SOCIAL SCIENCES

A minimum of six (6) years and a maximum of eight (8) years are allowed to complete the requirements for a degree.

PRE-LEGAL REQUIREMENTS

Candidates for admission to the Boston College Law School must have completed two years of full-time college work or its equivalent. This requirement may be satisfied by completing one-half the degree requirements, 60 credits, at the College of Arts and Sciences Intown. Students who wish to enter the Law School are registered in any one of the degree programs, and are required to follow the regular course, without variations, for three years. The usual entrance requirements of graduation from an accredited high school with at least fifteen (15) units and entrance examinations are required for admission.

The student is warned that the mere acquisition of passing grades in all subjects does not constitute a guarantee of admission to the Law School. An average grade of C (70%) in all courses taken during the three years of study is one of the conditions required by the Board of Admissions of the Boston College Law School.

AUDITORS

A limited number of students who are not candidates for a degree may enroll for courses without offering high school credentials. Evidence of good moral character is required of all students. These special students do not take the examinations at the end of the course. The fee for auditing a course is one-half the fee of a regular course. Auditors must make full payment of the tuition and fees on the day of registration.

REGULATIONS

REGISTRATION

Students are registered at the office of the Registrar, 126 Newbury Street, Boston, Mass. No student should register for any course without the approval of the Dean or Registrar.

REGISTRATION :

Sept. 8-12—9:00 A.M.-8:00 P.M.

Jan. 5-26—Registration period for second semester.*

TUITION

Full-time degree program as designated (cf outline)	$200.00
Other courses, each credit	12.00
Auditors, each semester hour	6.00
Registration Day: Registration, Student Activity and Library fees plus one-fourth of tuition (full time)	61.00

FEES

Graduation	10.00

PRIVILEGE FEES

Deferred Payment	$ 5.00
Condition Examination (semester)	5.00
Absentee Examination (semester)	5.00
Absentee Examination (quarterly)	3.00

OFFICE HOURS FOR PAYMENT

1. Monday of each week.
2. Entire week preceding listed payment date. (cf. Academic Calendar)
3. Registration Week.

N.B. Payment by mail is encouraged. Checks and money orders for the exact indebtedness only will be honored.

The balance of the tuition is payable in three equal installments on or before the dates listed in the Academic calendar. Failure to meet the tuition obligations on the dates assigned incurs a fee of $5.00 for deferred payments.

* Students in course, as well as new students, must register for the second semester.

Any arrangement for payments of tuition other than that outlined above must be approved by the Dean.

Under no condition will a student be admitted to either the mid-term or final examination unless all financial obligations have been satisfied.

ABSENCE FROM CLASS

No student may absent himself from any class without the explicit permission of the Dean, and even such excused absences are not to exceed 10 per cent of the lectures for any course for the current semester. Certified excuses must be filed with the Registrar immediately on return to classes, not at the end of the semester. Absences in excess of 10 per cent automatically disqualify the student from receiving credit for the course. Students are required to keep count of their own absences.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES AND REFUNDS

A student who withdraws from any course must notify the Office in writing. Withdrawal from the course will become effective as of the date on which the Office receives the notice. This date also applies to refunds. In default of such notice, refund on tuition cannot be expected. Failure to conform to this regulation is prejudicial to honorable dismissal as well as to readmission to the College.

Fees are not returnable. Tuition is not returnable after the first three weeks of a quarter. Students who withdraw during the first three weeks of a quarter will receive a pro rata refund.

ADMISSION TO CLASS AND EXAMINATIONS

For admission to any class an admittance card must be obtained from the office of the Registrar and presented to the professor conducting the class.

For admission to the mid-year and final examinations a similar card for each course must be obtained from the office of the Registrar and presented to the proctor.

APPROVAL OF PROGRAMS

All matriculated students must follow the curriculum prescribed by the College. No credit will be granted for courses not included in this curriculum unless the written permission of the Dean has been obtained in advance.

Also, students enrolled at Boston College Intown as candidates for a degree will not be allowed to follow courses in any other College at the same time. Those who are not candidates for a Boston College degree are not included in this proscription.

EXAMINATIONS

Supervised, written examinations are held at the close of each semester on the subject matter completed in that semester. Students who fail to receive a passing grade of 60% in the semester examination, but who have received a passing grade for their class work are allowed to take a condition examination. The mark for a condition examination is never more than a passing grade of 60%. Absence from a condition examination automatically results in a deficiency and the entire course must be repeated.

Students who have not received a passing grade of 60% in class work, tests, recitations, and assigned readings, incur a deficiency, and are not eligible to take the semester examination in the course.

Students who are absent from examinations may be permitted to take an absentee examination provided a certified and acceptable reason for the absence is filed with the Dean within one week of the incurred absence. Such students will be granted the full mark attained in the examination. No condition examination will be allowed to students who fail in their absentee examination.

In order to insure sustained effort and to provide the faculty with greater opportunities for direction, quarterly examinations in all courses are held at the mid-semester. Grades received in these examinations form an integral part of the final mark for the course.

SCHOLARSHIP

Students with three failures will be dropped from the College register. Any student whose scholastic works falls below a C (70%) average will be requested to withdraw from the College. An average of at least C (70%) in three-fourths of the courses studied is required for graduation, i.e., in courses amounting to ninety (90%) credits.

REPORTS

Results of the mid-year and final examinations will be sent to the students through the mails as soon as they have been compiled and recorded in the files. Grades will not be announced to the student either privately or publicly by professors without the permission of the Dean.

Errors on report cards should be brought to the attention of the office. Transcripts will be based on the credits recorded in the official files, and not on student reports.

TRANSCRIPTS OF RECORD

Official transcripts of records cannot be given to students or graduates, but must be mailed directly to institutions or persons considering the applicant for admission or employment. The first transcript is furnished free. A fee of one dollar is charged for each additional copy. No transcripts are issued during examination or registration periods.

STUDENT RESPONSIBILITY

Each student has the responsibility of being thoroughly informed about the regulations of the College as outlined in this bulletin, and other regulations and announcements posted on the College Bulletin Board. This is considered adequate promulgation.

MODERN LANGUAGE

Students who have had no high school training in a modern language must begin one of the elementary courses which are offered in the following pages. Students who have had two years' study in high school should register for the intermediate courses in the same language. Students who have had more than two years' training in high school should register for advanced courses in the same language. All students may begin work in the elementary class of a language other than that which they studied in high school. The twelve (12) required credits must be earned in the same modern language.

SCIENCE

Every candidate for the Bachelor's degree will be required to earn six (6) semester hours' credit in Biology, in Chemistry or in Physics. In the science selected, some laboratory work must be done. (Business Administration students excepted)

ELECTIVES

In order to give unity to Elective studies, the student should select, with the advice of the Dean, one Elective Branch as a "Major" study or "field of concentration." In this decision the main factor should be the student's prospective vocation in life. When this choice has been made, eighteen (18) semester hours of instruction should be taken in the same subject or in subjects so closely allied as to form a well unified field. These courses must be of advanced undergraduate calibre, i.e., those numbered in the one hundred group in this catalogue. No work should be begun on the "Major" study until the student has completed the courses prescribed in the Freshman and Sophomore curricula.

This arrangement of Elective studies will equip the student to continue graduate studies in his chosen field. In all cases it is to be plainly understood that whatever a student's "Major" may be, he is always obliged to follow the curriculum prescribed for the Bachelor's degree.

The following departments afford advanced undergraduate courses in which the "Major" or "field of concentration" may be chosen.

Statistical data and techniques; collection, tabulation, charting, tools of analysis. Special reference to their economic application. Lectures, readings, problems, laboratory work.

Four semester hours.

ECONOMICS 62—Economic Theory.

Problems of value and distribution; individual writers and schools of thought; monopolistic competition. Conducted mainly by class discussion.

Two semester hours.

EDUCATION

EDUCATION 1—Educational Orientation.

An introductory course comprising a general survey of the field of professional education. The prime purpose of the course is to adjust the student to the program of the teacher-training department and to lay the foundation for a professional attitude towards his later work in the capacity of teacher. The lectures will not attempt to make a complete or exhaustive examination of any particular subject in the sphere of education, but will aim rather to give the student an elemental knowledge of the content of each of its main divisions. Emphasis will be placed on principles.

Two semester hours.

EDUCATION 2—Principles of Education.

A presentation and elucidation of the basic concepts and principles which are as controls and norms in guiding thoughtful educational activity. The aim of the course is to study and confirm the validity of the proximate principles which should serve as the immediate determinants of teaching procedure. The validity of these proximate principles will be established by reference to the ultimate abstract and philosophical principles of education.

Two semester hours.

EDUCATION 21-22—History of Education: I.

A survey of the history of Education from primitive times up to the Reformation period. The lectures will investigate the object, content and methods of the various systems of education which flourished during these centuries. A critical evaluation of these early educational practices and an appreciation of their influence on modern educational procedure will be the precise objective of the course.

Four semester hours.

EDUCATION 31—Philosophy of Education.

The agencies of education, the social environment of the child, the major problems connected with curriculum, organization, administration and methods of teaching. The true aim of education and some of the more conspicuous among the false or inadequate aims of education are examined and criticized.

Two semester hours.

EDUCATION 32—Character Education.

This course aims at three distinct objectives: first, a scientific study of character involving the definition of character, the aim of Character Education, and the basis on which any true system of Character Education must be founded; second, the establishment of principles determining the best possible method of character training; third, the investigation and critical evaluation of modern theories and practices in Character Education.

Two semester hours.

EDUCATION 41—General Methods.

A study of methods and techniques in classroom teaching and class management. The purpose of the course is to familiarize the student-teacher with practical methods which have been found by concrete experience and scientific investigation to be most helpful and effective in securing specific educational objectives. The preparing of the beginning-teacher to assume his responsibilities with a firm grasp of fundamental teaching skills and practices is the special aim and purpose of the course.

Two semester hours.

EDUCATION 51—History of Education: II.

A continuation of the history of Education from the Reformation period to the present century. The lectures will discuss the object, content and methods of typical forms of post-reformation education. To trace the development of education from the Reformation to the modern era will be the aim of the course.

Four semester hours.

EDUCATION 111—Principles of Mental Hygiene.

A course in the psychology of adjustment and its application to daily life. This course has a threefold purpose: to give the student a basis for a better understanding of his own personality and its development; to help him better understand his fellowmen and his adjustment to them; and to acquaint him with the rich resources at his disposal in the field of mental hygiene. By means of lectures and class discussions, basic content material will be presented. Selected references for parallel reading will be given the student. A special problem for concentrated study will be chosen by each student as a nucleus around which to integrate his course work. A term report on this topic will be due at the close of the course.

Two semester hours.

EDUCATION 113—Mental Hygiene of Childhood and Adolescence.

A study of the behavior problems of childhood and adolescence. This is a professional course for teachers which purposes to give the teacher or other workers with children a better understanding of the child, his nature and his needs, as a basis for educational guidance and for improved teacher-child relationships. The principles of mental hygiene will be applied to classroom problems through the case-study method.

Two semester hours.

EDUCATION 115—Mental Hygiene for Nurses.

A course in the psychology of adjustment proper to the nursing profession. An exposition of the principles of mental hygiene applicable to problems appropriate to the profession will be the general purpose of the course. Its specific object is twofold: first, to stimulate and induce in the graduate nurse an appreciation of the latent possibilities of her personality for a more effective exercise of her profession; and secondly, to produce a more perfect understanding of her patients both in sickness and in health. The basic material of dynamic psychology and mental hygiene will be presented through lectures and directed supplementary reading.

Two semester hours.

EDUCATION 117—Personality.

For description of this course, see Social Science 129.

EDUCATION 129—History of Education: United States.

Comprehensive survey of educational development in the United States from Colonial times to the present. The origin and growth of every standard of institutional instruction from kindergarten to university will be studied in detail, and the influence of non-formal teaching agencies upon their development will be investigated. Various religious, industrial, and social factors which have contributed to the form and direction of educational theory and practice will be analyzed and evaluated for the purpose of imparting to the student a clear historical perspective for a better understanding and appreciation of contemporary American school policies, purposes, interests, and practices. The course will progress through five distinct phases of American educational history.

Two semester hours.

EDUCATION 130—History of Catholic Education in the United States.

PHILOSOPHY

PHILOSOPHY 1 — Dialectics.

A fundamental course in Philosophy. As an introductory course, its purpose is to train the student in the mechanics of thought and make him familiar with the principles of correct reasoning. To this end a study will be made of the major activities of the mind, namely, the Simple Apprehension, the Judgment, and the process of Reasoning. The corresponding external expressions of these activities, namely, the Term, the Proposition, and the Argument will also be treated in detail.

Three semester hours.

PHILOSOPHY 3 — Epistemology.

A philosophical defense of human knowledge. The object of this course is to vindicate the cognoscitive faculties of man. This will involve a critical examination of various theories of knowledge concerning the nature, sources, and criteria of truth. By the application of logical analysis the contradictions and inconsistencies of false theories will be exposed, and the soundness of the Scholastic position justified.

Three semester hours.

PHILOSOPHY 21 — Ontology.

A course in General Metaphysics. The precise purpose of this treatise may be gleaned from the definition of Ontology which is described as the science of all things that have been or now are or may be considered as having in common the attribute of being. It is, in other words, the science of all things that have been or now are or may be considered as having in common the attribute of being. Since each and every concept represents some form of being or its opposite, the object of the course is to establish the validity of our most fundamental concepts and the ultimate universal principles which are based upon them. This will involve a study of such concepts as substance and accident, essence and existence, unity and plurality, actuality and potency, cause and effect, good and evil, truth and error.

Two semester hours.

PHILOSOPHY 23 — Cosmology.

A philosophical study of the corporeal universe. The object of the course is to ascertain by the light of human reason the ultimate explanation of the origin, purpose, and nature of the material world in which we live. Employing as premises the data of common experience and the conclusions established in the various natural sciences respecting the properties of bodies, the treatise will proceed by sound argument to establish the true ultimate answers to the problems proposed.

Two semester hours.

PHILOSOPHY 31 — History of Philosophy — Medieval Philosophy.

The great thinkers of the Middle Ages, with special attention to the Greek influences, will be the subject matter of this course.

PHILOSOPHY 32 — History of Philosophy — Modern Philosophy.

This course will treat of the vagaries in philosophical thought as it branched forth from Descartes' position.

PHILOSOPHY 41 — Fundamental Psychology.

A philosophical study of life in general. The purpose of this treatise is to establish, as far as human reason can do, ultimate truths concerning the nature and origin of life in the universe. This will involve a study of vital phenomena variously manifested in the activities of plants, of animals, and of men. The conclusions arrived at will be based on common observation supplemented by the factual data of experimental science.

Several theses will be devoted to a consideration of the sense faculties. The existence of permanent sense faculties will first be established. It will then be shown that the activities of these faculties must be ultimately attributed not to the body alone, nor to the soul alone, but to both the body and the soul united substantially in one essentially composite nature. The function of the several senses in the act of perception, and their relation to the mind in its perception of external material objects, will then be defined.

This course will serve as a foundation for the following treatise which will be devoted exclusively to a study of the vital activities of man.

Two semester hours.

PHILOSOPHY 42 — Advanced Psychology.

A philosophical study of the human soul. This treatise will be devoted exclusively to a study of life as it is manifested in the activities of man. The enquiry will be restricted to those vital phenomena which pertain to the sensitive, intellectual, and appetitive faculties of man. The primary purpose of the course is to explain and defend the Scholastic doctrines concerning the nature, origin and destiny of the human soul. Its secondary object is to explain and refute erroneous theories on these highly important questions. Personal introspection, objective observation, and empirical psychology will supply the data upon which the various conclusions will be founded.

Two semester hours.

PHILOSOPHY 51 — General Ethics.

A philosophical treatise on the principles of moral conduct. The purpose of the course is to determine the basic laws which serve as the foundation of morality and according to which human action should be guided and regulated. This will necessitate a study of man as a rational being endowed with a faculty of free will which constitutes him a responsible agent in many of his actions. It will also involve a consideration of man as a social being intended by nature to live in community with other men for the attainment of mutual peace and happiness.

Two semester hours.

PHILOSOPHY 52 — Special Ethics.

A philosophical treatise comprising an application of fundamental moral principles to specific situations. The purpose of the course is to determine man's rights and obligations in a variety of concrete circumstances which affect his life both as an individual and as a social being. The morality of human acts in specific cases will be determined in the light of man's triple relation to God, to himself, and to other men.

Four semester hours.

PHILOSOPHY 61 — Natural Theology.

A philosophical enquiry into the existence and attributes of God. The object of the course is to investigate the grounds for an intellectual assent to the existence of a supreme Being distinct from the universe. Arguments based on natural reason alone will be offered in proof of the validity of the idea of God as commonly understood by the average human being. After the validity of the idea of God has been determined the treatise will proceed to ascertain, as far as human reason will allow, the nature and attributes of the supreme Being.

Two semester hours.

PHILOSOPHY 63 — Scholastic Synthesis.

A survey and analysis of the courses already studied with a view to their inter-relationships in the unified structure which the Scholastic Philosophical System on the nature of reality presents.

Two semester hours.

Two semester hours.

RELIGION 41 — God the Creator.

The first part of this course takes up the question of the creation of the world and of its various component elements, together with certain related questions of modern interest. The second part of the course examines the state of Original Justice in which our first parents were established and their loss of this state and its privileges by Original Sin; the consequences of this sin are then taken up, together with the related question of the Immaculate Conception of Mary, the Mother of God. The course concludes with a discussion of Eschatology: the General Judgment; Heaven; Hell; Purgatory.

Two semester hours.

RELIGION 51 — The Divinity and the Church of Christ.

A philosophical vindication of belief in the divinity of Jesus Christ. The purpose of the course is twofold: first, to establish the credibility of the sources from which is derived our knowledge of the life and teachings of the Founder of Christianity; and then to examine the contents of the documents known as the New Testament to determine whether or not they reveal two things: (a) that Christ claimed to be divine and (b) and He supported His claims to divinity by performing deeds which only the infinite power of God could accomplish.

A critical study of the manner in which Jesus Christ desired His teachings to be preserved and propagated. The purpose of the treatise will be to prove; first, that He founded a teaching-body and bestowed upon it full and complete authority to make known His doctrines to all future generations; second, that He bestowed upon this organization a guarantee to protect it from error in disseminating His doctrines; third, that He appointed one man to act as the supreme head of this body, bestowing upon him special prerogatives which were not given to the others; fourth, that He formally and explicitly intended that all other men should be united to this body and to this head, thus forming a visible religious society professing and practicing a common Christian faith.

Two semester hours.

RELIGION 101 — The Sacraments.

A treatise on the Sacramental system instituted by Jesus Christ. To explain the origin, nature and particular effects of each of the seven Sacraments is the purpose of the course. The lectures will be based on the traditional teaching of the Church from apostolic times. Proofs for the divine institution of the Sacraments will be drawn from the texts of the New Testament. The writings of the earliest Fathers of the Church will be appealed to as evidence of the continual and unchanging teaching of the Church concerning essential matters which pertain to the administration and effects of these sources of divine grace.

Two semester hours.

RELIGION 105 — The Theology of the Mass.

This course will begin with a study of the proofs of the Catholic doctrine of the Real Presence, contained in the promise of the Holy Eucharist narrated in John VI, in the Synoptic and Pauline accounts of the Institution of the Holy Eucharist and in the monuments of Christian Tradition. Then, omitting the Sacramental aspect of the Eucharist, it will proceed to a study of the Eucharist as sacrifice, investigating the patristic proofs of the sacrificial character of the Holy Eucharist, the nature of sacrifice in general, the sacrifices of the Old Testament, the sacrifice of the Cross, the various theories of the essence of the Eucharistic Cross sacrifice proposed by Vasquez, De Lugo, Franzelin and Billot, and the more recent theory proposed by Pere Maurice de la Taille, S.J.

Two semester hours.

SCIENCE: BIOLOGYBIOLOGY 41 — General Biology and Botany.

An introductory course in the study of living things. The scope of the enquiry will be restricted to a study of vital phenomena manifested in the plant kingdom. A combination lecture and laboratory method will be followed. The lectures will treat particularly the morphology and physiology of plants. In the laboratory work specific plants in each phylum will be studied with the aid of the microscope, the object being to acquaint the student with the fundamental principles of biology.

Six semester hours.

BIOLOGY 43 — Cultural Biology.

A fundamental course in the study of Biology consisting of one hour lecture and two hours of laboratory work each week for two semesters. The object of the course is to equip the student with the basic biological background required for philosophical, sociological, and educational studies.

Six semester hours.

Biology 43 meets at Boston College, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

BIOLOGY 103 — Genetics.

A lecture course on heredity designed for students without previous biological training. The object of the course is to study and analyze the facts upon which fundamental principles of inheritance are based. These facts will be taken from the sphere of plant and animal breeding. Application to human characters will be made wherever the facts will warrant doing so. Demonstrations, charts, and lantern slides will supplement the data of the lectures.

Two semester hours.

BIOLOGY 107 — Hygiene.

This course is primarily concerned with personal health, but will also include certain aspects of community health and sanitation. The physiology of the various organs and systems of the body will be studied, especially as affected by habits of nutrition, exercise, rest, etc. The nature and causes of some of the more common diseases will be discussed, with emphasis on preventive measures.

Two semester hours.

BIOLOGY 109 — Physiology.

This course will consist of lectures and demonstrations. It is designed for those intending to go into the teaching profession or into social service work. The lectures will be concerned with man and his relations to his environment both internal and external. The following topics will be considered: Digestion, Circulation, Respiration, Secretion, Sensation, Vitamins, Hormones, Enzymes, the effect of Radiant Energy, Locomotion, Age and Death. There will be demonstrations given by the instructor and members of the class to illustrate certain of the phenomena discussed in class.

Four semester hours.

SCIENCE: CHEMISTRY

CHEMISTRY 41 — General Chemistry.

A cultural course in the fundamentals of Chemistry. The course is not open to pre-medical students for it is not intended to be an intensive or exhaustive training for the prospective doctor. Its purpose is to explain the basic chemical concepts, facts, and principles to the student aspiring for a general cultural education. For this reason matters pertaining both to organic and inorganic Chemistry will be contained within the scope of the lectures.

Six semester hours.

Laboratory is held at Boston College, Chestnut Hill, Mass.

SCIENCE: PHYSICS

PHYSICS 41 — Mechanics, Heat and Sound.

A course of lectures on the physical laws in the sphere of mechanics, heat, and sound. Its purpose is not merely to impart facts, but to train the students to observe facts, to measure them, and by the process of inductive and deductive reasoning to establish fundamental laws and principles. The method of treatment will be historical and physical rather than mathematical. Lecture-table demonstrations and lantern slides will afford to the student an opportunity to observe the facts pertinent to the discussions. Laboratory work to supplement the lectures will be conducted in conjunction with them, and so provide an opportunity for measuring quantities and calculating laws by personal observations.

Four semester hours.

PHYSICS 42 — Electricity and Light.

A course of lectures dealing with the phenomena peculiar to magnetism, electricity, and light. Its specific aim is to train the student by inductive and deductive reason to formulate the general laws governing the particular facts acquired from observation. The importance of the power of accumulating observable facts will be stressed, but will be subordinated to that of the mental formation and training which may be acquired from the course.

Three semester hours.

SOCIAL SCIENCE

SOCIAL SCIENCE 1 — Fundamental Sociology.

An elementary exposition of the multiple relationship prevailing in human society and of the basic principles upon which various social groups are founded. The lectures will attempt to analyze the various factors, biological and environmental, which induce individual human beings to enter into organized groups and associations.

Four semester hours.

SOCIAL SCIENCE 21 — Principles of Economics.

This course introduces the student to the field of economics. It treats of fundamental economic concepts and processes, the organization of economic activity, the determination of value and price, the distribution of income into wages, interest, rent and profits, money and banking, international trade, and government's relation to business enterprise.

Four semester hours.

SOCIAL SCIENCE 31 — The History of Social Thought.

A rapid survey and critique of the more significant contributions to social thought before 1850. The social thought of the Greeks, Romans, Hebrews, Apostolic Teachers, Patristic Writers, the Mediaeval Schoolmen, and more recent thinkers—notably Machiavelli, Bodin, Montesquieu, Ibn Khaldun, Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, and De Maistre — will be emphasized in the course of a systematic introduction to contemporary sociological theory.

Four semester hours.

SOCIAL SCIENCE 101 — Current Social Problems.

A study of important social problems in the United States. The lectures will be devoted to an analysis of the various causes and contributing factors which produce conditions hostile to the social welfare of the country. An appreciation of the difficulties to be faced, and of the measures adopted by society for the solution of these problems, will be the aim of the course.

Two semester hours.

SOCIAL SCIENCE 103 — The Family.

An integrated survey of family phenomena. A scientific appreciation of the problems pertaining to the basic unit of organized society will be the object and aim of this course. The conclusions of cultural anthropology, individual psychology, social psychology, sociology, history, economics, and psychiatry, in so far as they bear upon family life, will provide the source of data for the discussions. The lectures will be concerned primarily and predominantly with the modern family.

Two semester hours.

SOCIAL SCIENCE 105 — Anti-Group Conduct.

A study and analysis of the influence underlying offenses against society. The specific object of the course is to inquire into the treatment of violators of the law in order to evaluate the various methods employed by society to combat crime. To this end a study will be made of the changing attitude of society towards the criminal through all its stages from the ancient attitude of retaliation, vindication, and revenge, up to the modern attitude expressed in individualized and socialized investigation and disposition. The lectures will be arranged according to the following scheme: the mechanics of crime, and machinery of justice, and the evolution of penology.

Two semester hours.

SOCIAL SCIENCE 107 — Public Health.

A critical analysis of the fundamental importance of health, both as an asset to the individual and as a factor in social welfare. The social significance of health and the nature of health problems are discussed. Consideration is given to social prophylaxis and therapeutics. The aspects of hygiene which aim at combating disease of social origin by means of palliative measures are treated. The modern socio-health movement; constructive programs in public health work advanced by health organizations and agencies.

Two semester hours.

SOCIAL SCIENCES 109 — Social Implications in Mental Disorganization.

An analysis of the various types of mental maladjustment. A consideration of the contributing social factors in the etiology and treatment of mental disorders. Special study will be given to mental hygiene and process of rehabilitation. This course is of special value to teachers, social workers and nurses.

Two semester hours.

SOCIAL SCIENCE 111 — Social Ethics.

This course aims to explain the scientific relationship between Ethics and Sociology according to primary considerations of each and certain basic determinants of Socio-ethical conduct. Particular emphasis will be given to impacts of ethical systems in individual and family behavior.

THE WILLIAM J. McGARRY, S.J., SCHOLARSHIPS

The Reverend William J. Murphy, S.J., President of Boston College, has established four scholarships at the College of Arts and Sciences Intown to be known as the William J. McGarry, S.J., Scholarships.

These scholarships have been founded to honor the memory of the Reverend William J. McGarry, S.J., former President of Boston College (1937-1939), an eminent educator and outstanding scholar.

One is a full scholarship of one hundred and eighty dollars annually for six successive years. Another is a one-half scholarship of one hundred and eighty dollars annually for the three successive years of Freshman and Sophomore. Two more of one hundred and eighty dollars each are to be awarded annually to students for their Freshman year.

Scholarship candidates must signify their attention to stand for the competitive examinations and must fulfill all the requirements of Entrance Procedure as outlined in this BULLETIN, previous to the examinations.

These scholarships are to be awarded annually on the basis of competitive examinations which are identical with the August Entrance Examinations. These examinations consist of a series of objective tests, designed to measure aptitude and achievement.

The holder of a scholarship will be required to maintain a high rank for proficiency, diligence and good conduct. An average of 80 per cent must be attained by all who hold scholarships.

The decision of the Board of Admissions is final in determining the award of scholarships.

The following students were awarded the McGarry Scholarships in September 1946:

MARGARET T. DOUGHERTY

LOUISE V. FITZGERALD

MARIE T. FINDLAY

LOUISE B. FLYNN
